FUNDING OPPORTUNITY’S OBJECTIVE

The Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) is a U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) loan that is designed to help small businesses during the COVID-19 crisis, by providing a direct incentive in keeping their workforce on payroll. SBA will forgive the PPP loan if all employees are kept on payroll for eight weeks and the money is used for payroll, rent, mortgage interest, or utilities. The SBA resumed accepting Paycheck Protection Program applications from participating lenders on Monday, April 27, 2020. The deadline to apply is June 30, 2020.

AMOUNT OF FUNDING AVAILABLE

Funding for this program is still available. According to the Paycheck Protection Program Borrower Application Form, the loan amount awarded will depend on “calculating Average Monthly Payroll,’ and most applicants will use the average monthly payroll for 2019, excluding costs over $100,000 on an annualized basis for each employee.” Instructions on how to calculate PPP loan amounts by business type are available here.
